 November 2003 CIKM '03: Proceedings of the twelfth international conference on Information and knowledge management

Publisher: ACM

 Full text available: pdf\(207.09 KB\) Additional Information: full citation, abstract, references, cited by, index terms

Distributed heterogeneous search systems are an emerging phenomenon in Web search, in which independent topic-specific search engines provide search services, and metasearchers distribute user's queries to only the most suitable search engines. Previous ...

This paper investigates the pre-conditions for successful combination of document representations formed from structural markup for the task of known-item search. As this task is very similar to work in meta-search and data fusion, we adapt several hypotheses ...
